Commission Delays Paving Plans Due To Changes In Width Of Roadway

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, November 26, at the courthouse in Enterprise and opened bids on various materials for the county's highway department, but rejected all bids on paving four roads after stating all future roads to be paved would be a minimum of 18 feet wide and not 14 feet as called for in the specifications.

Commissioner Eugene Bradley made the motion after reminding the commission of an earlier decision concerning the width of all roads to be paved, and the motion passed without opposition, after Bradley agreed to open new bids at the first meeting in December.

Commissioner Billy Egerton had tried to have the original motion withdrawn when he stated he didn't make the motion, logged in the minutes of the previous meeting. Egerton's attempt to have the minutes amended failed when he and Bradley voted for the motion, while Martin, Boutwell and Bowden voted against the motion.

The meeting began at 9:00 in the morning with the first order of business being the opening of bids. The low bid from Wiregrass Construction was accepted on surface, prime and base material to be placed at the plant, with other bidders including Hooper Inc., S&C Materials and Couch, Inc.

The low bid on identical materials to be delivered at the job site was offered by Wiregrass also and was accepted. The only other bid was received from S&C Materials. Low bidder on hot bituminous pavement to be picked up at the plant was S&C Materials and was accepted by the commission. Other bidders were Wiregrass and Couch.

Wiregrass Construction was low bidder on bituminous pavement to be delivered at the job site and was accepted over bids by S&C and Couch. Choctaw was the only bidder on pipe and received the contract after review by the county engineer.

Bids on crushed limestone and rip-rap were highly competitive, with Southern Stone being low bidder. Other bidders were Vulcan Materials and Southeast Materials.

Dowling Truck and Tractor, Enterprise Auto Parts, City Auto Parts and Taylor Parts all bid on various filters to be used by the highway department, but the awarding of the contract was delayed until the engineer could examine the bids in detail.

Bids also were opened on two new cars for the sheriff's department with Ed Sherling Ford being low bidder and getting the order after an unusual vote. Ed Sherling Ford underbid Dixie Ford and City Auto Sales, and got the order by a vote of 2-1, with two abstaining. Egerton and Bradley voted for the low bid, while Bowden voted no and Martin and Boutwell abstained from voting.

In other action at the meeting on Monday the commission:

presented a resolution to the family of the late Fred Donaldson for his years of service to the citizens of Coffee County;

agreed to auction surplus material on December 15 at an auction with the county school system;

sent out invitations to bid on concrete for flames at the Victoria gully project;

failed to act on a request to name Holland Walters as the foreman in Work Area 4;

approved the annual financial statement;

was informed the absentee ballots had been delivered to the state as required;

passed a resolution commending Randall Lucas for his work as director of the Elba Work Release Center during his tenure at the facility; and told the engineer to do the work requested at the Union Grove Church.

PRESENTS RESOLUTION... Coffee County Probate Judge Marion Brunson reads a resolution adopted by the county commission honoring the late Fred L. Donaldson, former county tax collector. Accepting the resolution are Mrs. Marianne Nietzold and Mr. Fred Donaldson, children of the late Mr. Donaldson.

To Aid Pool Construction

Council Accepts $40,000 Federal Grant

The Elba City Council met Monday evening for a short meeting with very little business to handle. All members were present with the only official business being the signing of a resolution and approving purchase of a dump truck.

The council gave official approval to a resolution allowing Mayor Bob English to enter into an agreement to accept a $40,000 federal grant to be used on the construction of the new public swimming pool. The facility will cost an estimated $296,000 and will be located in Hawkins Williams Park, just off Smith Avenue. A $50,000 grant had already been approved for the facility; the balance will come from city monies. While some of the work will be done by the city "in-kind", English told council members that federal agencies strongly recommend the entire pool itself be done by a single contract to clarify responsibility for any problems that might arise.

The proposed facility will be L-shaped, with a 75-foot by 45-foot main pool, and a 30x75-foot diving well to facilitate use of both one- and three-meter diving boards. A 10x14 wading pool, lifeguard facilities, concrete decking, etc.; a bath house with showers and restrooms, security lighting and fencing around the pool; fifteen picnic tables, ten outdoor grills and a 20x40 covered pavilion and sidewalks to connect them all will round out the recreational accommodations.

Bids on a dump truck were opened at the last council meeting, but accepting of low bid was postponed to insure the bidder was meeting all specifications. Council members Cleo Hawkins and John Sharpless were appointed to check this matter and they reported back that Lonnie Russell Ford of Birmingham met or exceeded all specifications, and recommended purchase of the dump truck from them at a cost of $15,091.

Mayor English reported on the financial condition of the city and noted that there was $150,000 in interest-bearing accounts, yielding 10.23 percent. Most of this amount is obligated for various projects but the interest it is earning goes into the general fund for day-to-day operations.

The first budget comparison for the year showed revenue exceeding predictions and all departments except the street department under budget on spending.

A major change in the fire department is being considered by Mayor English with approval of the council. He explained Monday night that he had proposed to the volunteer fire department the firing of three fulltime firemen with the goal of lowering fire insurance rates up to 25 percent. He explained there would be one fireman on duty at all times and when a fire alarm was sounded, this individual would immediately leave with the fire truck, and when the volunteers arrived at the fire scene, the truck would be there, hoses hooked up and ready to fight the blaze. English noted he had checked two similar size communities in Alabama that were using this system and it worked well and at the same time saved money for the local citizens.

English noted however that there were some firemen who either didn't understand the procedure or simply didn't like it, but the majority was in favor of looking into the matter.

The proposal to extend the city limits must be handled with care, English noted, to work smoothly with the fire protection capabilities of the force. He noted that fire officials only recognized a six-inch water line as being enough for fire protection and Elba had some that needed upgrading for this purpose.

Dept. Of Environmental Management Orders Elba Man To Close Waste Dump

The Alabama Department of Environmental Management (ADEM) has ordered the owner of a waste disposal site near Elba to stop receiving all waste and to close the site immediately for violations of state environmental regulations.

L.M. Burch has operated the disposal site for non-hazardous waste on Alabama Highway 89, approximately six miles north of Elba, since 1979. Regular site inspections by ADEM personnel have revealed violations of state standards, primarily those requiring adequate compaction and coverage of waste - on at least eight occasions between 1979 and December 1983. ADEM Solid Waste Management Regulations require that waste be compacted daily and covered with a minimum of six inches of soil.

Burch was previously notified of the violations and given an opportunity to correct the deficiencies. After failing to do so, he was notified to close the site by March 1, 1984. Waste is no longer being received.

but final closure has not been accomplished.

State regulations require that certain measures be taken upon the closing of all landfills, specifically: obtaining and applying sufficient soil to provide a minimum two feet of compacted cover for all disposal areas; proper drainage and filling of low areas and proper grading and contouring of the finished disposal area so as to eliminate the problem of standing water; planting vegetation on all completed disposal areas in an effort to minimize erosion; and posting and fencing the area to prohibit any unauthorized dumping.

An administrative order is an enforcement mechanism used by ADEM to establish a method and a schedule for achieving compliance when violations of environmental permit conditions or regulations occur. Failure to comply with an order can result in the commencement of legal action for the recovery of civil penalties, criminal fines, or other appropriate relief.

Elba Rescue Squad Is...

Always There When You Need It

Three a.m.

The eerie "beep beep" of a pocket pager wakes a member of the Elba Rescue Squad from a sound sleep. He gets up, calls police headquarters, and learns there has been a wreck on the Opp Highway. He dresses quickly and heads for town, where he meets another squad member. They are a team - one a driver, the other a certified emergency medical technician or EMT - experts at responding to life - and - death situations. Siren wailing, they speed to the scene of the accident and find a woman trapped in her car which has skidded off the rain-slick highway and smashed into a tree. Using a special mechanical device known as the "jaws of life," they pry open the door of the car, get the victim out, administer first-aid on the spot, then rush her to Elba General Hospital. Her injuries are severe, so they transport her on to Flowers General Hospital in Dothan where she undergoes emergency surgery.

By early morning, the Rescue Squad members are back in Elba, heading for their regular jobs - bone-tired, but knowing they have performed another life-saving mission.

It's a hypothetical situation, but a typical night's work for the men and women who are Rescue Squad volunteers. They are a special breed of folk who perform a crucial service in such an efficient way, we often take them for granted.

Their training is unique. Of the 24 members of the squad, about a third are qualified as Emergency Medical Technicians. They have gone to night school for a least three months to learn all the technical aspects of dealing with emergency situations. Some go beyond that to acquire training in advanced emergency techniques. Their training continues throughout the year in special seminars and classes. Other members of the Squad perform the critical jobs of driving ambulances and assisting with rescues and other emergency work. Squad members are qualified to do every job from transporting a sick person to a nursing home to delivering a baby.

They work with modern, sophisticated equipment. A $35,000 ambulance is equipped with oxygen tanks, suction gear, splints, collars for neck and spinal injuries, and the valuable "jaws of life" as well as a wide array of first-aid supplies. And on each mission, they take an ample supply of understanding and tender-loving-care.

Elba citizens and civic groups have supported the Rescue Squad with money and encouragement. Rescue Squad members, in turn, serve without pay because they are dedicated to providing their unique service to the community.

The next time you see a Rescue Squad member, tell him or her how much you appreciate their unselfish service. Someday you or a friend or family member may need them in a hurry. They'll be there.

City Worker Shot By Fellow Worker At City Barn

A disagreement between two employees of the Elba Sanitation Department resulted in a shooting at the city barn on Tuesday, November 27.

According to the Elba Police Department, two employees on a garbage truck got into an argument while on duty, and upon completion of the rounds a shooting occurred at the maintenance barn.

Shot was John Mitchell, who was transferred to an Enterprise hospital. Mitchell, who had not pressed charges at press time, was shot in the hand with a .38 caliber revolver.

City Board Of Education Sets Open House Dec. 9

The Elba City Board of Education cordially invites you to attend Open House at the Elba Junior and Senior High Schools on Sunday, the ninth of December from two until three-thirty o'clock.

National Healthcare Welcomes New Investors

National Healthcare, Inc., headquartered in Dothan, observed its third anniversary Thursday with a day-long celebration that included a meeting of stockholders and bankers whose money and confidence are making NHI one of the most robust and fastest growing companies in America.

Four new stockholders introduced by NHI president Steve Phelps have just invested $5,500,000. Also present were representatives of Citibank in New York which recently signed an agreement to lend the company $20,000,000 to develop new health care facilities. The company already owns, leases or operates 17 hospitals and nursing homes in six states, including the Elba General Hospital.

LANDMARK PHOTOGRAPHS are showing up throughout both Coffee County courthouses as the result of a deal between Probate Judge Marion Brunson and the art department at Enterprise Junior College. A project of the art students is to paint some county landmark and the original painting is then framed by the school and presented to the county for display. Some of the first to be received are Green, Mrs. Neil Harrison and Miss Jennifer Lee. The three paintings are from left: Cole's Bridge, the Elba courthouse and the Boll Weevil Monument. Other paintings are on display in the Elba courthouse and in the Enterprise courthouse.

ESJC Art Students Paint Historical County Sites

Art students at Enterprise State are preserving part of the Wiregrass heritage in paintings which are displayed in the Enterprise and Elba courthouses.

"This is a marvelous way to display our heritage," said Judge Marion Brunson. "The paintings of our area landmarks are a permanent part of our courthouses," he added.

The Enterprise courthouse and three in the Elba courthouse. The paintings include two of the Boll Weevil Monument and one each of the First Methodist Church, the Little Red School House, the Enterprise courthouse, the Elba courthouse, the Rawls Hotel and Cole's Bridge.

Delano Anderson, ESJC art instructor, was instrumental in getting students to paint the landmarks. "Our students are currently working on several more paintings," Anderson said. "Other landmarks have been requested and we plan to begin work on them soon. Persons wishing to suggest a landmark can come to me at 393-ESJC," he added.

"I believe the courthouses are the perfect places to display the paintings," Judge Brunson commented, "because everyone has to come to the courthouse at least once during the year."

Brainstorms.....

With Ferrin Cox

We need not worry any longer about the mental anguish suffered by the leaders of the national Democratic Party. After suffering a defeat that is expected by everyone but them, the group gathered in the Virgin Islands to lick their wounds. Of course this was paid in full by party funds and that probably eased the pain a bit more. We were a little concerned about some of these folks when we heard them on Monday before the election citing the reasons they were using for believing Mondale was going to unseat Reagan. Now we can move on and worry about other, less important matters.

It is tragic and almost like a soap opera -- the story of the wreck in Sioux City, Iowa, that killed two fathers and a daughter of one while injuring the daughter of the other, and 16 others on a girls basketball team trip. The shocker was that the name under which the 16-year-old was buried turned out to be that of her friend who was in a coma for 15 days. We can imagine the trauma on the families with the death of the fathers and one girl while the other was in a coma; but to have the tables reversed when she wakes up and tells them, "No, I am Patricia" is a little more than my little ol' brain could handle.

It appears there will be a new tax plan for Americans next year. We have read with interest all the proposals. Some we like and others we accept, while some make us shudder. The true flat tax plan has been batted around for years, and one we read about would save us money while still allowing us to deduct our mortgage interest. The official administration plan was unveiled Tuesday and we still aren't sure if it is good for Number 1 or not. However, if it does what it promises to do, we can support it, even if it does, as we suspect, cost us all a little more each year.

We read that many college athletic departments are testing players for use of drugs. We salute this action and hope it is expanded. While this in itself will not stop use of drugs, it will get the users out of being athletic heroes and role models for the younger generation.

We are watching with interest the efforts to save a man's life with an artificial heart. The effort in Louisville, Kentucky, Sunday is thus far a success and we hope it continues to be. The baboon heart in Baby Fae failed, as did the only other artificial heart last year. At both deaths, critics came forward with "I told you so" and "It should never have been done". Well, we still disagree, because the alternative is sure death, and sooner or later people will be successful and save lives with these methods or some modifications of them.

The gasoline fire in Mexico that killed hundreds and injured many hundreds more points that such facilities should be built away from populated areas and kept that way. The areas around could be used to grow corn or cotton and then when an accident does happen, many lives would be saved.

Interest rates continue to drop. The federal reserve cut the rate it charges to banks to borrow, and some banks have cut prime to 11.25. While neither of these figures relates directly to us consumers, the entire chain of interest rates is related and surely will come down a bit.

Night Classes Set At McArthur

Night classes in computer-related courses at Douglas MacArthur State Technical College can help workers in a variety of fields adapt to the ever changing technology in the work environment.

Preregister now for computer courses in your field. An organizational meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 27 at 7 p.m. in the student center in order for area citizens to provide input as to preferred meeting nights and times.

In addition to night programs in Welding and Diesel and Heavy Equipment Mechanics, night courses planned for Winter Quarter include: Principles of Data Processing, Introduction to Equipment Operations, Computer Aided Drafting (CAD), and Word Processing.

For more information about classes offered in the night or day programs, interested persons should call 493-3673.

Interested persons should make an effort to attend the organizational meeting as it is necessary to have ten applicants register for each course before the courses can be scheduled.

Ft. Rucker To Sell 10 Buildings

Scaled bids are now being accepted on 10 World War II-type buildings at Fort Rucker. Bid acceptance closes at 2 p.m. Tuesday, December 18, 1984.

The structures, which are located on the Rucker cantonment area, are advertised for sale/demolition in invitation for bid No. RE-B-757.

Prospective bidders may inspect the buildings and obtain bid information Monday through Friday (except on a legal holiday) between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. Point of contact for this is Tony LeDuc, Real Property Office, Building No. 1404, Directorate of Engineering and Housing, Fort Rucker, AL 36362-5000. His telephone number is 205-255-2886.

Respectfully,
Henry S. Cochran, M.D.

Dear Editor:

Recently, relatives and friends of Audie Hendley Dorrough were in your community for the funeral and burial of our loved one. The service was at Hayes Funeral Home in Elba, and interment was in the Danley's Cross Roads Cemetery.

Relative from Alabama, Georgia, California, Florida and Kentucky were shown the most heartwarming and comforting expressions of sympathy from the people of Coffee County that anyone could ever hope to experience.

This is surely not an unusual thing for the kind people of your area to do, but we have to feel it is highly unusual for people to show this sort of love and sympathy to families who have not lived in Coffee County for over forty years.

The deceased lived with her mother, Mrs. Molly Hendley and family, in Coffee county in the 1930's. She married J.D. Dorrough of Danley's Cross Roads, and several of the five children, of whom four survive, were born there. Another daughter, Mae Hendley, also married a native Coffee Countyman, Cecil Foley, both now deceased.

Part of the Hendley family, including the writer, moved to Georgia in 1938, and my sisters who were married, and their families, left there not many years later, settling in other areas of Alabama.

There remains the warmest and most humble feelings in our hearts when we remember the kind, caring people, who showed up to express their sympathy and concern in our sorrow of losing a loved one; one they remembered too from so many years in the past. It truly was an experience we'll never forget. In this fast-paced world we're living in today it almost seems unreal that there are still people who have values such as these fine people in Coffee County with whom we were

SPANISH CLUB

BY: DAVID "DQ" RAINEY

Last week at the Spanish Club meeting president Janet Stewart called the meeting to order and secretary Sharon Pope called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. The rules that the Constitutional Committee had made at its special meeting were read and explained to the club members. The main topic of discussion was fund-raising activities. Suggestions were brought before the club and votes taken. Several committees were appointed to find out about various projects. Some suggestions considered for the fund-raising activities were candy sales, car washes, raffles, calendar sales and yard sales, but no definite plans were made.

BETA CLUB

BY: JULIE DAVIS

"Operation Santa Claus" was one of the topics discussed at Zion Chapel's Beta Club meeting Wednesday, November 14. The president, Rhonda Senn, asked all members to turn in order forms for cookies and Christmas gifts. The main topic of discussion was fund-raising activities. Suggestions were brought before the club and votes taken. Several committees were appointed to find out about various projects. Some suggestions considered for the fund-raising activities were candy sales, car washes, raffles, calendar sales and yard sales, but no definite plans were made.

December 19 was set for the special Christmas party, and a refreshment committee was appointed, consisting of Kelly Sheffield, David McCarroll and Wendy Nelson. The president announced that the cookies and Christmas gifts would be back in about two weeks. Members are to turn money in to Janet Stewart, treasurer, as soon afterwards as possible. The president then announced that Beta Club dues had been sent in and membership items should arrive soon. Brenda Boyd was announced as the $5.00 winner of the initiation contest. Suggestions for a club Christmas party were made and discussed. The meeting was adjourned.

FFA MEETING

BY: WYMAN "LAVANCHI" McWATERS

The second annual meeting of the Future Farmers of America was held last week. The meeting was brought to order by President David Rainey. The meeting was held to discuss the orange sale that was sponsored by the FFA. After the discussion of the orange sale the FFA members saw a film on the American quarter horse. The film traced the quarter horse from its first introduction into the United States. Afterwards the closing ceremonies were held and the meeting was adjourned.

FHA MEETING

BY: KELLY SHEFFIELD

The Zion Chapel Chapter of Future Homemakers of America held its November meeting with Rev. Lanny Shepard as guest speaker. The meeting was called to order by President Krista Dyess. Secretary Kelly Sheffield called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. The chapter voted on its December project which will be the House of Ruth, a home for battered wives, in Dothan. The chapter will provide Christmas gifts. Vice president Janet Stewart introduced the speaker whose subject was the importance of a good heart. He discussed exercises and eating habits that will help you have a better conditioned heart.

PTO Meeting Held

BY: CYNTHIA WILLIAMS

The last monthly meeting of Zion Chapel PTO met during National Education Week. After PTO president Roger Goodson called the meeting to order, a Thanksgiving devotional was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Dyess.

The intermediate band then played a selection of songs under the direction of Mr. David Seaton. Mr. Goodson then called on Mrs. Peggy Storey and Mrs. Rachel Bryan, AEA faculty representatives, to introduce the participants in the "I've Been Back to School" program. However, before they began he surprised them with a very large fruit basket to take back to their respective faculties. The fruit baskets were given in appreciation of the jobs the teachers do.

The last order of business was to appoint a committee to determine how to spend the money made from the Halloween Carnival. The high school committee members are Elsie Hilton, John Frank Hudson, Rachel Bryan and Pat Fowler. Elementary members are Elizabeth Dyess, Rea Young, Chris Sutley and Lou Ann Bryan. Parent members are Don Flowers, Dewayne Thomas, Rebecca Jackson, Donnie Marler and Bernice Culver. This committee will take suggestions from the rest of both faculties on how to disburse approximately $4000.

Z.C. Basketball

Bulletin

BY: CHRIS HODGE

Basketball season is finally here and the Rebels are ready! The junior team is only 1-1 but extremely talented, and should be a force to be reckoned with in the county tournament. The junior Rebels victory came against Samson, with Angelo Cole and Teraz Haynes as high scorers. The junior Rebels' next game is at New Brockton Thursday, October 29, at 6:30 p.m. The B and varsity teams are also in for a good season. Thursday, November 15, the Rebels held a scrimmage game that lifted hopes to win higher as Dale Liprot and John Liprot led the B-teams, and as varsity standout Dennis Evans dominated the rebounding end of things.

In the opener against Florala both the B team and the varsity claimed victories. The B-team was left with few players because some are not eligible as of yet. But this was not going to stop the Rebels as they hung on to win 42-40 as Dale Liprot and Robert Smith played key roles in the victory.

The varsity also came out on the better end of a close one with Timmie Haynes scoring the winning basket. Greg Flowers and Dennis Evans also had significant performances to add to the 66-63 victory.

Mrs. Warren Speaks To Home

Economics Classes

BY: KIM BRUNSON

What would you do if you were a pregnant teenager? Every year $50,000 babies are born to girls under 17 years old.

Mrs. Karen S. Warren recently visited the Zion Chapel Home Economics classes and discussed teenage pregnancy and birth defects. Only about one-third of the pregnant teenagers finish high school. One-half will accept federal assistance. Twenty-five out of 100 fathers will leave before their child is born, and 75 percent will leave before the child is three years old.

Mrs. Warren also discussed birth defects. Eighty percent of all birth defects are the result of alcohol, drugs, smoking and unbalanced nutrition.

Mrs. Warren is an R.N. with B.S. and M.S. degrees. She has graduated from Troy State University and the University of Alabama.

Who's Who Selected At Z.C.

BY: TERESA HOLCOMB

"Who's not, who's not?" This question was answered last week when grades seven through twelve voted for Who's Who. I'm Back In School

BY: KRISTA DYESS AND JANET STEWART

"Hey, what's your dad doing teaching school?" Most of the day I spent with my eyes and ears open and my mouth shut. When asked how her students reacted to the situation she said they loved it. They were extremely well-behaved, listening attentively and treating Mr. Herbert with the highest respect. She said many of the comments she had been making for 12 weeks seemed to take on new meaning when he made them.

"I think they finally realized," said the teacher, "that they, Mrs. Hodge may know something after all."

Mrs. Hodge reported she thoroughly enjoyed the experience. "It was very enlightening to see how someone else would attempt to teach my students," she said. "I had never observed another teacher in my classroom and it was very interesting."

She also added that she felt the day was a good learning experience for everyone involved and that it should be repeated at least once a year.

Guest teachers in the elementary school were Mr. Ferrin Cox, editor of The Elba Clipper, the Rev. Larry Doster, pastor of Victoria Baptist Church, Mr. Larry Pope, Farm Bureau Insurance agent, and Mrs. Elizabeth Dyess. Rev. Doster taught the fourth grade of Mrs. Chris Sutley. Mr. Pope taught the second grade of Mrs. Rea Young, and Mrs. Dyess was guest teacher in kindergarten with Mrs. Diane Taylor.

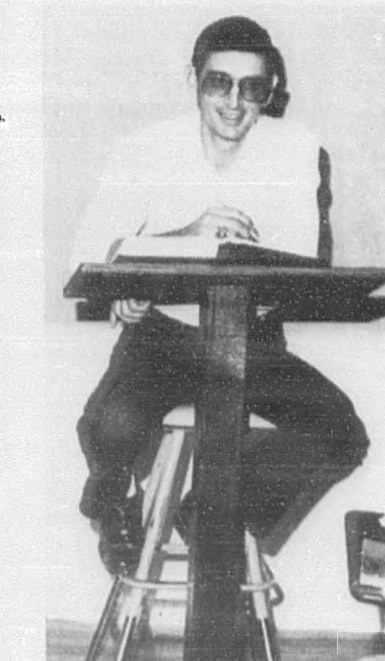

When Mr. Cox and Mr. Pope were asked if their opinion of teachers and their duties changed after they taught, their response was "no". They were eager to say they have always had the highest respect for teachers and have now been more enlightened to their duties.

When Mr. Cox was asked if he was astounded by the students' actions, he responded by quickly saying, "I was very impressed with their overall knowledge and willingness to learn." That seemed true in all cases. The kids were excited to have new faces in their classrooms because it brought on a totally different outlook to their learning. They seemed more outgoing, attentive, and showed great respect for the one in charge.

When the host teachers were asked if they thought the "I've Been Back to School" program was a success, all of them responded in a positive way by saying they thought it went well and was very worthwhile.

VIEWS FROM

THE PRESSBOX

BY RICKY MULARZ, EDITOR

It's basketball season at Elba High and it looks like another good season on the way for Coach Hank Kennedy's Tigers. The Tigers are bound to get off to a slow start due to the success of the football team, but have more than their share of talent and should be competitive as soon as they get their sneakers loosened up. The Tigers return only one starter in Mick Phillips, who is still recovering from a cracked ankle sustained in football, while part-time starters coming back will include Mike McCollough, also limping with a football injury, and John Osburn. Newcomers to watch will be John Hudson, Derrick Young, Raynard McKinnon and Tim Caldwell. The Tigers won't be big winners right away, but I think they'll surprise some folks before the season gets in the home stretch.

The area basketball scene is already active and both Zion Chapel and Kinston have chalked up wins. The Rebels opened the season with a big win over defending Area 3 champ Florala, while the Bulldogs opened with a win over Paston, Florida. New Brockton will be in action this week and is expected to be as good as ever. If you like basketball this should be a good season to go to the gym!

The 1984 football season is now history for the Elba Tigers and it's time to sit back and see how many of our players make the various all-star teams. Tailback Michael Scott seems a shoo-in for all-state honors on everybody's list, while noseguard Terry Ware, linebacker Ken Ware and quarterback punter John Hudson all have chances at the honored lists. The first of the all-star teams is due out in two weeks and I'll let you know how our players did.

The State football playoffs continued last week and the Pike County Bulldogs got upset down in Brewton by the T.R. Miller Tigers. The Bulldogs had a good team, but probably had a hard time getting their minds on T.R. Miller after their win over Elba. Other surprises included wins by Prattville, B.C. Rain, Tallahassee, Demopolis and Beulah. Local teams still in the hunt for state titles include Greenville (SA), Cottonwood (2A), and T.R. Miller (4A).

I went to the New Brockton football banquet last week and gained a few pounds feasting on all sorts of seafood. The Gamecocks always put on a top-notch banquet and you can bet Coach Boutwell knows how to treat a guest. The banquet was interesting and enjoyable, and will always be one I look forward to attending!

Ye Ole Polish Prognosticator struggled through last week and is glad the season is nearing an end. Here are this week's picks, including my first college pick of the season...

Goodman Wins 45-37

The Goodman Eagles rallied in the second quarter to erase a big deficit and then pulled away in the third quarter to claim a 45-37 win over the Zion Chapel Junior High Rebels.

The win upped Goodman's record to 2-0, while Zion Chapel slipped to 1-1. Zion Chapel came out red-hot in the opening stanza and pulled out to a 10-7 lead, only to see Goodman come storming back in the second quarter and go on top 19-18 when Bobby Myers hit two free-throws at the end of the half. The Rebels regained the lead at 20-19 early in the third quarter, but the Eagles took command and, led by the shooting of Myers, moved out to a 33-22 advantage. Zion Chapel tried to make a comeback in the final stanza; however, Goodman hit eight of 11 free-throws in the quarter and held on for the win.

Bobby Myers scored 20 points to lead Goodman, while Angelo Cole led New Hope with 12.

Brantley Bulldogs Ousted By Sweet Water 12-7

A Sweet Water runner is upended after a jarring tackle by Brantley's Mike Kelley (62).

STORY & PHOTOS BY BILLY W. WILLIAMSON

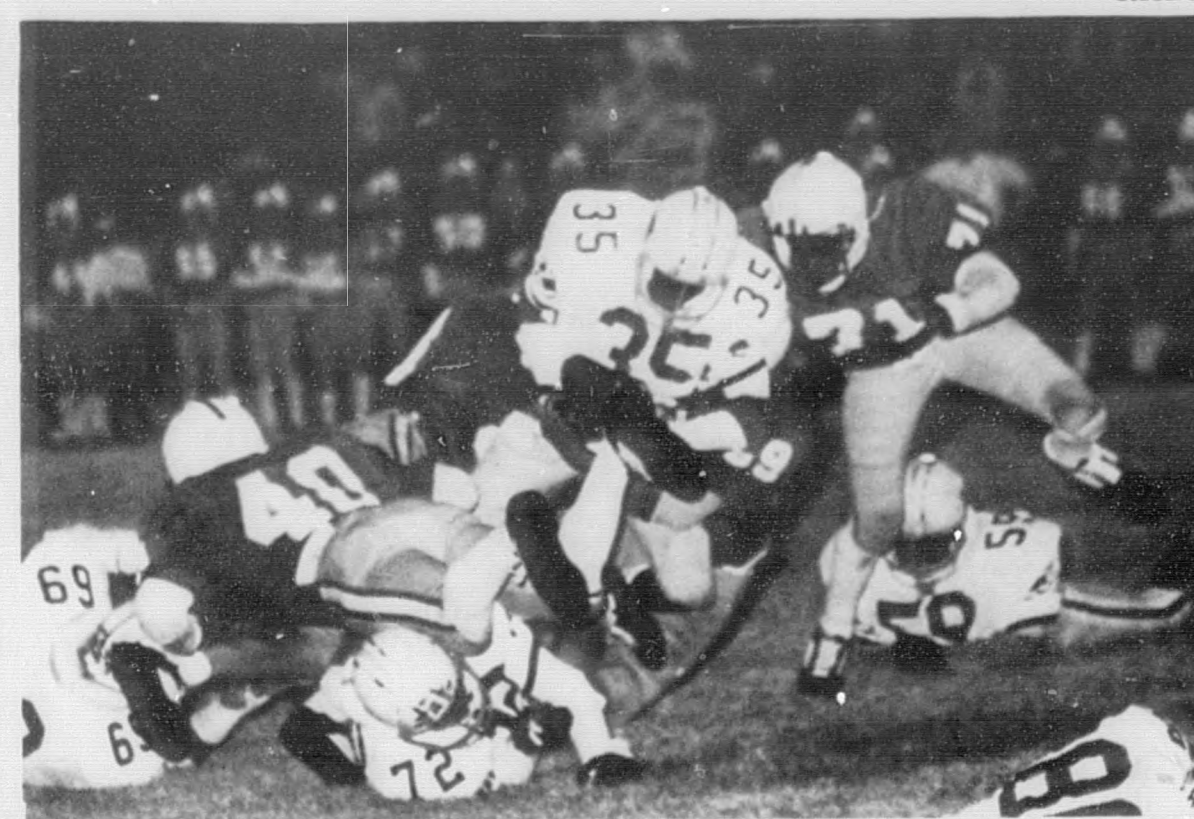

The Brantley Bulldogs saw their hopes of a State Class 1A football championship vanish last week on a cold Friday night in Sweet Water as the home-standing Sweet Water Bulldogs claimed a hard-fought 12-7 win in the quarter-finals of the State 1A playoffs.

The win upped Sweet Water's record to 11-2 and advanced the Bulldogs to the semifinals against Beulah, while Brantley finished the season with a 10-3 slate.

Brantley received the opening kick, but got into trouble almost immediately as Sweet Water blocked a Bulldog punt and recovered on the Bulldog 10-yard line. The stingy Dog defense refused to budge, and Dog defense refused to let Sweet Water take advantage of the quick turnover and took over four plays later on the 11.

Sweet Water took over on the 25-yard line following a good punt and this time showed its power by driving 75 yards on just six plays to get on the board! A 28-yard run by Marvin Lockett and a 34-yard pass from Derian White to Johnny Nobles were big plays in the drive, while the score came on an 11-yard run by Dewayne Gamble. A two-point try failed, leaving Sweet Water with a 6-0 lead with :44 left in the first quarter.

Brantley crossed midfield on its next possession, despite three fumbles that resulted in 23 yards in losses. The drive bogged down following the third fumble, however, and the Bulldogs again had to punt the ball away.

Sweet Water threatened twice more in the first half after short Bulldog punts, but each time the Dog defense refused to budge, and at halftime Sweet Water went in with a 6-0 lead.

Sweet Water received the second half kick and drove 65 yards in 13 plays to stretch its lead to 12-0. Sweet Water converted on three third-down situations during the drive.

Brantley drove on its next possession and crossed midfield, only to bog down at the Sweet Water 40 and turn the ball over on downs. The Bulldogs got the ball back at the 50-yard line after Sweet Water gambled and failed on fourth-down and two, and the Dogs quickly moved to a first down at the 42-yard line. A clipping penalty and another fumble slowed the drive and left Brantley facing a third-down-and-12; however the Bulldogs had a trick up their sleeves and fooled Sweet Water on a halfback pass, only to have the pass dropped by a wide-open receiver. Sweet Water intercepted a final Brantley pass on the next play and Sweet Water ran out the clock to claim the 12-7 win.

Marvin Booker gained 89 yards on 20 carries to lead the Brantley ground attack, while Keith Dorsey added 52 yards on 10 carries. Marvin Lockett led Sweet Water with 106 yards on 23 carries.

New Brockton Honors Athletes At Sports Banquet

The student-athletes involved in the sports of football, volleyball and cheerleading at New Brockton High School were honored on Tuesday night, November 20, when the New Brockton A Club sponsored its annual Fall Sports Banquet at a popular Enterprise restaurant. Principal Stanley Walker opened the banquet by giving the invocation, and after welcoming remarks by a club president, Clinton Marler, the large crowd on hand enjoyed a delicious seafood buffet.

Football Coach LeRoy Boutwell was the night's first speaker and gave a brief recap of the recent season.

A 5-5 season is a losing season at New Brockton," Coach Boutwell said, "but I'm proud of the players and I both admire and respect the boys who paid the price and worked hard. This group went through a lot and gave the desire to win in all the games. When a team loses it's the head coach's fault and I take the blame. Don't point the finger at any player, point it at me! I don't think one bad season can destroy the rich tradition we have established here. We can't let the season change the way we support our school and our young people. We all must use the season as a learning experience."

Coach Boutwell presented plaques to all the senior players, including Kerry Williams, Mike Haynes, Kelley Tindol, Jeff Creel, Ronald Hallford, Mark Anderson, Jamie Pittman and Eddie McGraw. Mike Haynes and Kelley Tindol were named as the team's permanent captains, while the Bob Lockier

Memorial Award went to Mike Haynes. All managers and players also received letter awards.

The volley ball team, which posted a 16-3 record and advanced to the state playoffs, was next to be honored, with Coach Margie Thomas calling the team a "hard-working and dedicated group." Players Shirley Andrews, Sheila Andrews, Tina White and Sherry Bass were honored for being named Most Valuable Players at the Area tourney. Seniors Tina White, Shirley Andrews and Sheila Andrews were given plaques, with Sheila Andrews being named Lady Gamecock. All the players and managers received letter awards.

Mrs. Thomas, who doubles as the cheerleader sponsor, next passed out honors to the cheerleaders. She called the group a young, but hard-working squad and presented trophies to all the cheerleaders. The cheerleader captains were Michelle Howe and Ginger Carmichael.

Mr. Walker closed the evening with a few remarks and thanks to everyone involved in the athletic program.

Two Schools Placed On Probation By AHSAA

Cleburne County High School and Mobile County Training School have been fined and placed on probation by the Alabama High School Athletic Association.

Cleburne County of Heflin was fined $300 and put on probation for a year for the flagrant, unsportsmanlike conduct of a Cleburne County fan, who attacked and struck one of the game officials after the football game with Alexandria Nov. 2.

Cleburne County High School principal Robert Morton and several police officers, who were escorting the game officials at the time of the attack, were commended for their efforts.

The probationary period is a warning that other unsportsmanlike acts on the part of any student, coach, faculty member or fan representing Cleburne County will cause the school to be placed in severe jeopardy with the AHSAA.

Also, coaches Dennis Magouirk and Rush Probst of Cleburne County were officially reprimanded for their conduct after the game and warned that further acts that incite their fans at athletic events will cause severe penalties to be placed on them as coaches in AHSAA member schools. Mobile County Training School was fined $150 and placed on probation for a year for using an ineligible player in its football program. Three games were forfeited by the school.
